Irises marked (*) are offered here for the first time in America.

PEACHES (H. P. Sass—Keller 1932)—Large flowers of peach to apricot and orange tones. S, are beautiful coloring of a "luscious Elberta Peach" (words used by an artist); F, orange overlaid red. A lovelier Clara Noyes. Mr. R. M. Cooley of Silverton, Ore., who saw "Peaches" blooming in the gardens of Mr. H. P. Sass, declared it to be the most charming mass of soft bright color he had seen. $10.00

JEANNETTE MAY KENNEDY (Keller 1931)—S, large and finely arched of ruffled pink; F, flaring deep velvety red to blackish purple, bordered pink. The whole flower is strongly illuminated from within by a rich golden glow. The most charming Iris we have seen. Flowers of largest size and heaviest substance, of perfect form, are borne very freely on stiff stems. Mr. H. P. Sass, who saw a bloom of this after it was carried 200 miles in a car, wrote: "It is a blend of size and substance. If stem is good would rate it 90 at least." In its rare coloring it is unlike any other Iris and in size, form, substance and branching could not be improved; 38-in. $35.00
